Anyone can Prevent Memory Loss

The Alzheimer's Research and Prevention Foundation (ARPF) has been advocating the prevention of memory loss since 1993. Now, organizations across the world, including the National Institutes of Health, agree that there are steps that can be taken to prevent Alzheimer's disease.

Maximize your brain health and function today, regardless of age or stage of life

- Super charge your brain health with the right diet and vitamins
- Manage stress with meditation
- Strengthen your body and mind with physical and mental exercise
- Consider medications and hormone replacement therapy

Research shows that people suffering from memory loss who practice ARPF's 12-minute daily meditation can improve their cognitive function.

AT THE PHOENIX SUNS, KIDS HAVE ALWAYS BEEN A PART OF OUR GAME PLAN.

Your Phoenix Suns have dished out millions of dollars in charitable assists to organizations that help kids and families. From basketball court renovations to building 'Live, Learn, & Play Centers,' hundreds of worthy causes have benefited from the involvement of the Suns. The Suns team, fans, marketing partners and volunteers have made all of this possible. We're proud to make every effort on the court and in the community on behalf of Arizona's kids.
